

Davis Applies "Heart Sense" At Ellis Island

Cabinet Labor Chief Cuts Red Tape at Station in Which 40 Years Ago He Was Poor Immigrant Lad

Saves Widow and Family Halts Deportation of Pretty Polish Girl; Will Have Mercy Temper Justice

Forty years ago an immigrant boy eight years old, from Tredegar, Wales, passed wisely through the old immigration station at Castle Garden to the land of opportunity which was to accord him high public honors in later life.

Yesterday this boy, James J. Davis, now Secretary of Labor, stood among the immigrant throngs at the Ellis Island station. He was making the first of a series of inspections in a general survey of immigration stations on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, for the purpose, he said, of improving the service "along common sense and heart sense lines."

Secretary Davis was not long in putting the "heart sense" idea into effect. He severed the red tape which would have deported yesterday a widow and her four little children and a pretty Polish girl of nineteen years. He ordered that an appealing Spanaway, clad in rags and wearing broken shoes, from which his bare feet protruded, be outfitted.

Finds Much to Praise

The "common sense" Secretary Davis displayed in recommending several changes which he believed would better conditions at Ellis Island, although he said he found "much to praise and little to condemn, in spite of complaints made in the past." The improvements which Secretary Davis favors are renovation, where it is required; the establishment of a delousing department and a plan whereby radicals will not be sent to Ellis Island until the eve of their deportation.

It is understood that Secretary Davis also favors an extension of the labor bureau to Europe in order that prospective immigrants may be "hand-picked" before they are permitted to come here, and thus eliminate the problem of having to send back those who fail to meet the requirements of the immigration law.

"I can remember my arrival almost as if it were yesterday," said Secretary Davis reminiscently, as he gazed about the vast registration room.

Do the Human Thing
"My idea is that the best impression of the immigrant, at the last one I believe the immigration service should be such that it will inspire those who come here to an immediate appreciation of the possibilities offered them under the American government. My policy in the conduct of the department is to comply with the law and at the same time do the human thing."

The immigrants to whom Secretary Davis's visit proved a boon were Mrs. Maria Koch, her four children, Elizabeth, John, Rose, and Maria, and Mrs. Rachel Ficke. Secretary Davis happened to be in the room of the board of special inquiry when the cases were being heard. Jacob Weintraub, a lawyer, was informed that the board had agreed to adopt the family, which had been ordered deported on the ground that it might constitute a public charge. The board announced the order of deportation had been issued and that Mrs. Koch and the children

Secretary Davis at Ellis Island

The head of the Department of Labor yesterday visited the immigration station for the first time since he took office in President Harding's Cabinet.

Indians and Flappers Compare Facial Paint at White House

From The Tribune's Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON, April 23.—Comanche war paint, as compared with imported cosmetics, was to be observed at the White House today. A score of Indians from Oklahoma waited about the lobby of the executive offices to pay their respects to the President. Gathered at the other end of the spacious lobby were forty girls from a finishing school here, present on the same errand.

Many of the Indians were resplendent in full regalia. Their bronzed faces were painted to resemble the insignia of the Rainbow Division. The girls, too, were attired in their nattiest gowns, designed to win a second glance from the most disinterested of the President's entourage. The point was that the girls were not as vivid as that sported by the Indians. The girls, confined themselves largely to soft tints. The women and men of rank, across the room from one another, silently studying each other's make-up.

Comanche Ben, sixty-five years old, owner of valuable oil wells and with several notches in his tomahawk, acquired years ago, contemplated the girls and their modish make-ups for several minutes. He grunted and muttered to himself, "They look like Indians, sitting beside him. Then both sat and stolidly stared. They saw one already were aboard the steamer Rymund, scheduled to depart at noon.

Secretary Davis's dark brown eyes glistened.

"Well, I think we can cut a little red tape here," he said, and suggested the agreement presented by the lawyer be accepted. An inspector, who had dispatched to the steamer and the Koch family taken off just before the gang-plank was lifted.

Secretary Davis was accompanied by William H. Hubbard, new Commissioner of Immigration, Frederick A. O'Donnell, of Kansas City, special representative of the Department of Labor, and Thomas R. Shipp, of Washington, Commissioner of Customs.

W. L. WISE, Ph. B. Booklet.

W. L. WISE, Ph. B. Booklet.

GRACE T. LAPHAM, Director
870 Riverside Drive (Tel. Audubon 435) New York City

Kyle Camp, Catskills Mts.

The Paradise for Boys, 6 to 16. Bungalow only—no tent tents. Bathing and swimming perfectly safe. Camp physician, nurse, matrons, and campers. For more information, write to Kyle Camp, P. O. Box 100, Catskill, N. Y.

Minne-Wawa Summer Camp for Boys and Girls
At Lake of Two Rivers, Wisconsin. Located in beautiful park, in heart of Ontario High Forest. Unexcelled for fishing, canoeing, observation, and nature and wild animal study. Wholesome moral atmosphere. Highest references. Write to Minne-Wawa, P. O. Box 100, Two Rivers, Wis.

SAGAWATIA LODGE
Bantam Lake, Conn., 100 miles from New York City. Cabin camp for 40 boys. Experienced cooks, excellent food, fishing, canoeing, and nature study. For more information, write to Sagawatia Lodge, P. O. Box 100, Bantam, Conn.

CAMPING—Private motor transportation for 10 to 16. Bungalow only—no tent tents. Bathing and swimming perfectly safe. Camp physician, nurse, matrons, and campers. For more information, write to Kyle Camp, P. O. Box 100, Catskill, N. Y.

WOOD'S Business School
10th Ave. & 126th St. Largest because best. Every Wood Graduate in a high standard position.

U. S. SCHOOL OF SECRETARIES
30 WEST 34th STREET
Brooklyn, 18 Livingston Street
New Classes Constantly Forming
School Open All Summer

WOOD'S Business School
10th Ave. & 126th St. Largest because best. Every Wood Graduate in a high standard position.

WOOD'S Business School
10th Ave. & 126th St. Largest because best. Every Wood Graduate in a high standard position.

WOOD'S Business School
10th Ave. & 126th St. Largest because best. Every Wood Graduate in a high standard position.

WOOD'S Business School
10th Ave. & 126th St. Largest because best. Every Wood Graduate in a high standard position.

WOOD'S Business School
10th Ave. & 126th St. Largest because best. Every Wood Graduate in a high standard position.

WOOD'S Business School
10th Ave. & 126th St. Largest because best. Every Wood Graduate in a high standard position.

WOOD'S Business School
10th Ave. & 126th St. Largest because best. Every Wood Graduate in a high standard position.

WOOD'S Business School
10th Ave. & 126th St. Largest because best. Every Wood Graduate in a high standard position.

WOOD'S Business School
10th Ave. & 126th St. Largest because best. Every Wood Graduate in a high standard position.

WOOD'S Business School
10th Ave. & 126th St. Largest because best. Every Wood Graduate in a high standard position.

WOOD'S Business School
10th Ave. & 126th St. Largest because best. Every Wood Graduate in a high standard position.

Einstein Startled At High Speed of U. S. Radio Plant

Gets Answer From Germany in 6 Minutes and Japan Listens In; Word a Second Is Flashed Across Sea

Professor Albert Einstein, the German scientist, was given a practical demonstration of high speed transatlantic wireless communication yesterday as his theory of relativity astounded the rest of the world. The demonstration was staged at the great wireless station at New Brunswick, N. J., under the direct supervision of the leading radio engineers of America.

During the test, which was being made with different stations in Europe, a cable message was received from Japan declaring that the New Brunswick station was being received by the signals from the wireless station on the Pacific Coast. At the conclusion of the tests Professor Einstein expressed his astonishment and said the radio development of America was far ahead of anything in Europe.

The test was part of a day's outing arranged for the scientist by officers of the Radio Corporation of America. Early in the morning Professor Einstein went to the central telegraph office at 64 Broad Street. There he was met by the leading radio experts of this country, including Dr. C. Steinmetz, Dr. A. N. Goldsmith, Dr. Irving Langmuir, Dr. Albert W. Hull, John Carson, Dr. E. J. Berg, David Sarnoff and J. H. Taylor.

At the Broad Street office Professor Einstein was shown the method of remote control whereby the operators there control the powerful transmitting apparatus at the station. While he was watching the station, communication was established with the station at Nauen, just outside of Berlin, in Germany. To demonstrate the efficiency of the communication, Professor Einstein sent a message of greeting to the officer in charge of the station. Six minutes later he received the following reply:

"Many thanks and reciprocations. Most hearty greetings to you and your German scientist. Officers in Charge, Berlin. Shortly afterward a message of greeting was received from von Arco, one of the leading German radio experts. This was signed Einstein, Langmuir, Steinmetz, Goldsmith.

Immediately afterward the party boarded a train and proceeded to New Brunswick. The luncheon given by the station at the Hotel Hamilton, Dr. Steinmetz said that a high speed test would be made at the station.

The party then motored out to the station, and the tests were made. During these a speed of sixty words a minute was reached in transmitting messages to England, Norway and France. The tests were made by the signals of the station. Later communication was established with ships at sea at various distances.

Franklin K. Lane Jr., Weds Miss McCahill

Ceremony Takes Place at Country Home of Bride's Mother in Minnesota

Special Dispatch to The Tribune
MINNEAPOLIS, April 23.—Miss Catherine McCahill, daughter of Mrs. J. C. McCahill, of Lake City, Minn., today became the bride of Franklin K. Lane Jr., son of Mrs. Franklin K. Lane, of Chicago. The wedding took place at the country home of the bride's mother, the McCahills, near Lake City, Minn.

Entering the baggage room, Secretary Davis paused before a great pile of trunks and bags. He pointed to a big, iron-trapped box, apparently the work of his immigrant possessor. "We had one just like that," he said, "when I was a boy."

Secretary Davis was accompanied by William H. Hubbard, new Commissioner of Immigration, Frederick A. O'Donnell, of Kansas City, special representative of the Department of Labor, and Thomas R. Shipp, of Washington, Commissioner of Customs.

W. L. WISE, Ph. B. Booklet.

W. L. WISE, Ph. B. Booklet.

GRACE T. LAPHAM, Director
870 Riverside Drive (Tel. Audubon 435) New York City

Kyle Camp, Catskills Mts.

The Paradise for Boys, 6 to 16. Bungalow only—no tent tents. Bathing and swimming perfectly safe. Camp physician, nurse, matrons, and campers. For more information, write to Kyle Camp, P. O. Box 100, Catskill, N. Y.

Minne-Wawa Summer Camp for Boys and Girls
At Lake of Two Rivers, Wisconsin. Located in beautiful park, in heart of Ontario High Forest. Unexcelled for fishing, canoeing, observation, and nature and wild animal study. Wholesome moral atmosphere. Highest references. Write to Minne-Wawa, P. O. Box 100, Two Rivers, Wis.

SAGAWATIA LODGE
Bantam Lake, Conn., 100 miles from New York City. Cabin camp for 40 boys. Experienced cooks, excellent food, fishing, canoeing, and nature study. For more information, write to Sagawatia Lodge, P. O. Box 100, Bantam, Conn.

CAMPING—Private motor transportation for 10 to 16. Bungalow only—no tent tents. Bathing and swimming perfectly safe. Camp physician, nurse, matrons, and campers. For more information, write to Kyle Camp, P. O. Box 100, Catskill, N. Y.

WOOD'S Business School
10th Ave. & 126th St. Largest because best. Every Wood Graduate in a high standard position.

U. S. SCHOOL OF SECRETARIES
30 WEST 34th STREET
Brooklyn, 18 Livingston Street
New Classes Constantly Forming
School Open All Summer

WOOD'S Business School
10th Ave. & 126th St. Largest because best. Every Wood Graduate in a high standard position.

WOOD'S Business School
10th Ave. & 126th St. Largest because best. Every Wood Graduate in a high standard position.

WOOD'S Business School
10th Ave. & 126th St. Largest because best. Every Wood Graduate in a high standard position.

WOOD'S Business School
10th Ave. & 126th St. Largest because best. Every Wood Graduate in a high standard position.

WOOD'S Business School
10th Ave. & 126th St. Largest because best. Every Wood Graduate in a high standard position.

WOOD'S Business School
10th Ave. & 126th St. Largest because best. Every Wood Graduate in a high standard position.

WOOD'S Business School
10th Ave. & 126th St. Largest because best. Every Wood Graduate in a high standard position.

WOOD'S Business School
10th Ave. & 126th St. Largest because best. Every Wood Graduate in a high standard position.

WOOD'S Business School
10th Ave. & 126th St. Largest because best. Every Wood Graduate in a high standard position.

WOOD'S Business School
10th Ave. & 126th St. Largest because best. Every Wood Graduate in a high standard position.

WOOD'S Business School
10th Ave. & 126th St. Largest because best. Every Wood Graduate in a high standard position.

Modern Fashions Cause Cadets To Threaten Taking Fiji Brides

Pennsylvania Students, Wishing to See More of Girls' Faces and Less of the Rest of Them, War on Rouge and Short Skirts

CHESTER, Pa., April 23.—A ban on the powder-puff, lip stick, tweezers and half hose and an impassioned plea for the speedy return of the old-fashioned girl are embodied in resolutions drawn up by cadets of Pennsylvania Military College and made public to-day.

Drafting of the resolutions was followed immediately by selection of a "powder-puff jury" to investigate the girl problem and consider possibilities for reform. This jury is composed of twelve cadets from almost as many states—cadets who are frankly out of sympathy with the idiosyncrasies of the modern girl. One of the first acts of the jury was to instruct Cadet Philip W. Buxton, 166 Woodland Street, Worcester, Mass., to crystallize the anti-modern girl sentiment of the cadets in a bit of verse, entitled: "Taps for the Modern Girl."

Cadet William G. Henry Jr., foreman, announced that the jury next week would issue a report on the eve of the senior military ball, an event of annual importance for society folk of Philadelphia, Chester and Baltimore. It was understood that the jury would get down to brass tacks as to skirt lengths and other details of attire. Resolutions drafted by a committee of fifteen followed.

Text of Resolutions
"We, the undersigned, hereby, on the spot, make a determined bid for the old-fashioned girl—the sort of girl that bloomed daintily and modestly in the good old days of pa and ma. We want a girl who will act naturally, girls who will banish the powder-puff, the lip stick, tweezers and half hose for good and for all, girls who will cut out the jazz and talk sense. You see, kind friends, some of us have graduated and are making good in our respective lines, we've got to look around for a wife, and, Heavens! what will we do if the girls don't reform."

When you consider the waste motions for which that powder-puff is responsible is it any wonder that we fear that the 'powder-puff swinger' will have little time for cookery and other domestic duties? It is a far cry to the Fiji Islands, but if positively necessary, we can, in the dim future, after graduation, go there in search of a wife.

Plea Made in Verse
"In framing this plea, let it be understood that we have no personal animosity and that we have no particular girl in mind. We P. M. C. cadets come from north, east, south and west, and therefore we can safely say the problem is national in its scope. We humbly petition for reform, and crystallize our feelings in a bit of verse. 'Taps on the Modern Girl,' so ably penned by Cadet Philip Buxton, of Massachusetts."

Let us now show your face. A mask like that can't take its place. Your tweezers and your powder-puff. To come here and to stay. Don't wear your brow with kardashers. Or frizz your bangs and chop your hair. Your only place is on the stage. Girls like these are the ones we want. Then you can smile with greater ease. So lay the puff upon the shelf. And the tweezers and the half hose. "Maybe a lot of fellows in other colleges feel the way we do about it, and if so we ought to get together and organize a national anti-modern girl league, and concerns every chap who may some day pay a marriage license fee."

Solomon Wexler, Cotton Broker and Banker, Dies Here

Former Vice-President of American Bankers' Association 54 Years Old; To Be Buried in New Orleans

Solomon Wexler, partner in the brokerage firm of J. S. Bach & Co., 42 Broadway, and at one time vice-president of the American Bankers' Association, died Friday at his home, 930 Park Avenue.

Mr. Wexler was born at Natchez, Miss., on November 29, 1867, and was educated at the University of Mississippi. He was a member of the American Bankers' Association, and was vice-president of the consolidated bank and in 1914 was elected president of the bank.

In 1903 he joined the firm of J. Weis & Co., of New Orleans, and the following year founded the Central Bank of New Orleans. In 1908 this bank consolidated with the White Bank, and the name of the Whitney Central National Bank. He became vice-president of the consolidated bank and in 1914 was elected president of the bank.

He was a director of the State Bank, Motor Products Corporation, Aetna Express Company, J. V. Vincent, Inc., New Amsterdam Casualty Co., Invaluable Oil Corporation, and president of the Union National Stores Company and Southern Railway System. His clubs included the Bankers Club, Republican Club, Southern Club of New York, Italian America Society, New Orleans Country Club, Societe Francaise de Philadelphie, and the Club of the South. He will be at home in Chicago after October.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Olga Wexler. Funeral services will be held at noon to-day and interment will be in New Orleans on Tuesday.

John P. Young, Veteran Managing Editor, Dead

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—John P. Young, who for forty-four years was managing editor of The San Francisco Chronicle, died here early today. Mr. Young was seventy-one years old. He was born in Philadelphia and came to California in 1877. He was the first managing editor of the Chronicle.

When Mr. Young was sixteen years old he ran away from home and enlisted in the navy. His parents retrieved him and put him in a mercantile house in New York City. He was a member of this existence, however, and went to Arizona. From there he went to San Diego and became managing editor of The San Diego Union.

In 1902 he came to Washington, D. C., where he remained four years. He was managing editor of The Washington Chronicle. Mr. Young was well known as an economist and was the author of "Protection and Progress," "The Growth of Modern Trusts" and "Bimetallism and Monometallism."

LORENZO GATI SUSPICIOUS
MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., April 23.—Lorenzo Gati Suspicious, clubman, golfer and advertising man, died to-day at his home, 131 Cary Avenue, Mount Vernon, N. Y.

When Mr. Gati was sixteen years old he ran away from home and enlisted in the navy. His parents retrieved him and put him in a mercantile house in New York City. He was a member of this existence, however, and went to Arizona. From there he went to San Diego and became managing editor of The San Diego Union.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Olga Wexler. Funeral services will be held at noon to-day and interment will be in New Orleans on Tuesday.

Richard Parkhurst, 52 years old, of 500 City and was the Plainfield, N. J., for the last twenty years associated with a man, publicity man and writer, died yesterday, which was his birthday, in St. Mark's hospital, after an operation performed 24 hours before for a kidney complaint.

He worked at various times on the staffs of the New York American, the World and the Evening Telegraph. He was for the last three years associated with publicity work of the Salvation Army.

He is survived by his wife and two stepsons.

Special Train To-morrow
For Fyne Burial in Princeton

Funeral services for Moses Taylor Fyne will be held at his late residence, in Princeton, N. J., at 11:45 a. m. (daylight saving time) to-morrow. The train will leave New York City at 9 a. m. (railroad time), and will go directly to Princeton, returning to New York after the service. Burial will be made at the Princeton Cemetery.

Opera Season Ends With 'Lohengrin' As Final Offering

Miss Farrar's Farewell in "Louise" in Afternoon Is Marked by Usual Shower of Floral Tributes

The Metropolitan Opera season ended yesterday. The performance of "Louise" in the afternoon was the occasion of Miss Geraldine Farrar's farewell. As at other performances of this opera the artistic honors were again carried off by Mme. Berat and Mr. Rothier as the father and mother, and by the artists in the minor roles, among them Mr. Diaz, Mr. Anagnin, Mr. Bada, Mr. D'Angelo, Miss Ellis, Miss Axman, Mme. Delaunoy and others. Mr. Wolff, having called a day ahead of his intention, it fell to Mr. Bamboschek to assume the duties of conductor.

The season's final bombardment of flowers for Miss Farrar had been well organized by her admirers. After the first act she was fairly buried beneath a shower that rained from all parts of the house, and other bouquets were tossed over the footlights during the numerous curtain calls after each act. With the absence of Caruso from the opera house the farewell week has been unusually quiet and Miss Farrar's last appearance was the only occasion which assumed the demonstrative aspect familiar to the closing week of other seasons.

There were more flowers at the end of the opera, and it was not until the supply was nearly exhausted that the singer allowed herself to be coaxed into the usual and customary "Lohengrin" assumed the tone of an official announcement when she stated that Caruso would again appear with the company next season.

"Thank you all for myself and for those other songbirds now already speeding on their way to Atlanta," she said. "We shall meet again next November and I am sure I shall be an added source of joy to all of us to know that one of the best comrades I have ever known will then be with us again. Caruso will be back with me, so many seasons' farewell to each him, I have been missing him all the week, and I am sure that all his love and prayers will help to make him an even greater artist, if that were possible."

The season's last performance of "Lohengrin" was given last evening, when "Lohengrin" was sung by Mrs. Easton, Mrs. Clausen, Mr. Kingston, Mr. Whitehill, Mr. Gustafson and Mr. Leonard, but the doors of the opera house were closed, and the performance was this evening's concert.

Reds Free Salvationists Commander Booth Hears Aids Have Left Prison

Commander Evangeline Booth of the Salvation Army yesterday announced that the Soviet government had released the Salvation Army representatives from prison. The release was announced from the London headquarters of the Army.

Last February, while Commissioner Henry Mapp, in charge of all Salvation Army activities in Russia, was in London trying to get British troops out of the Russian territory, the latter, numbering about thirty-five, were suddenly arrested and held in prison since.

The release of the Salvationists was explained by Commander Booth as being due probably to Lenin's reported new policy of moderating his program.

Birth, Engagement, Marriage, Death and In Memoriam Notices may be telephoned to The Tribune any time up to midnight for insertion in the next day's paper. Telephone Beckman 3000.

ENGAGEMENTS

GREEN-BAXTER—Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Taber, Larchmont, N. Y., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mary Elizabeth Baxter, to Mr. Robert Anthony Green, of Larchmont, N. Y. No date has been set for the wedding.

TABER-COFFEE—Mr. and Mrs. William Taber, of Larchmont, N. Y., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mary Elizabeth Taber, to Mr. Robert Coffee, of Larchmont, N. Y. No date has been set for the wedding.

WHITE-DONNELLY—The engagement is announced of Miss Helen Donnelly, daughter of Mr. William H. Donnelly, of Larchmont, N. Y., to Mr. Robert White, of Larchmont, N. Y. No date has been set for the wedding.

HEYWOOD-AVERY—Miss Marie Fredricka Avery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ledyard Avery, of 800 Riverside Drive, New York City, is engaged to Mr. Robert Heywood, 324 West 193d St., New York City. The wedding will be performed by the Rev. Dr. Edwin Kellogg, of the Church of the Holy Trinity, New York City. Reception followed at the Gotham Hotel.

KEIKES-BIVINS—Mrs. Georgia Wheaton Keikes, of Washington, D. C., is engaged to Mr. Robert Bivins, of Washington, D. C. No date has been set for the wedding.

ANDERSON—A. H., in Tarklin, R. I. Funeral Sunday, April 24, at 11 a. m. Interment in family plot, Woodlawn Cemetery, Brooklyn.

BERGER—Morris, on April 22, Funeral Brooklyn, N. Y., on Sunday, April 24, at 10 a. m.

BERKELEY—Mrs. aged 75 years, on Friday, April 22, at her late residence, 2055 Harman St., Bronx, N. Y., after a long illness. Funeral on Sunday, April 24, at 2 p. m. Interment in family plot, Woodlawn Cemetery, Brooklyn.

BICKMAN—Elizabeth, on April 22, at her residence, 218 East 85th St., New York City, after a long illness. Funeral on Sunday, April 24, at 2 p. m. Interment in family plot, Woodlawn Cemetery, Brooklyn.

BOHNET—Raymond Ambrose, on April 22, at his residence, 2327 Grand Central Avenue, New York City, after a long illness. Funeral on Sunday, April 24, at 2 p. m. Interment in family plot, Woodlawn Cemetery, Brooklyn.

BREKENRIDGE—At Hackensack, N. J., on April 22, at his late residence, 2327 Grand Central Avenue, New York City, after a long illness. Funeral on Sunday, April 24, at 2 p. m. Interment in family plot, Woodlawn Cemetery, Brooklyn.

CLARK—At Philadelphia, Pa., on April 22, at his late residence, 2327 Grand Central Avenue, New York City, after a long illness. Funeral on Sunday, April 24, at 2 p. m. Interment in family plot, Woodlawn Cemetery, Brooklyn.

CONNOR—On Friday, April 22, John F. Connor, at his home, 437 Park Ave., New York City, after a long illness. Funeral on Sunday, April 24, at 2 p. m. Interment in family plot, Woodlawn Cemetery, Brooklyn.

EMPLOY A SPECIALIST. E. Willis Scott, 100 W. 100 St., New York City.

DEATHS

At home, then to the Roman Catholic Church of Our Lady of Mercy, 130 W. 100 St., New York City, after a long illness. Funeral on Sunday, April 24, at 2 p. m. Interment in family plot, Woodlawn Cemetery, Brooklyn.

CRAMPTON—On April 22, 1921, Joseph B. Crampton, of 301 Dean St., Brooklyn, N. Y., after a long illness. Funeral on Sunday, April 24, at 2 p. m. Interment in family plot, Woodlawn Cemetery, Brooklyn.

FOURNIER—On April 22, 1921, Achille Fournier, of 301 Dean St., Brooklyn, N. Y., after a long illness. Funeral on Sunday, April 24, at 2 p. m. Interment in family plot, Woodlawn Cemetery, Brooklyn.

GRANT—Lillian C. Grant, on Saturday, April 23, at the Presbyterian Hospital, 600 East 125th St., New York City, after a long illness. Funeral on Sunday, April 24, at 2 p. m. Interment in family plot, Woodlawn Cemetery, Brooklyn.

HIGH—On April 22, 1921, John H. High, of 301 Dean St., Brooklyn, N. Y., after a long illness. Funeral on Sunday, April 24, at 2 p. m. Interment in family plot, Woodlawn Cemetery, Brooklyn.

HOCH—On April 22, 1921, after a long illness, Frederick Hoch, of 301 Dean St., Brooklyn, N. Y., after a long illness. Funeral on Sunday, April 24, at 2 p. m. Interment in family plot, Woodlawn Cemetery, Brooklyn.

JAMES—On April 9, 1921, in Park, John J. James, of 301 Dean St., Brooklyn, N. Y., after a long illness. Funeral on Sunday, April 24, at 2 p. m. Interment in family plot, Woodlawn Cemetery, Brooklyn.

KNEIB—On Thursday, April 21, 1921, after a long illness, John Kneib, of 301 Dean St., Brooklyn, N. Y., after a long illness. Funeral on Sunday, April 24, at 2 p. m. Interment in family plot, Woodlawn Cemetery, Brooklyn.

LINSKY—At Newark, N. J., on April 21, 1921, after a long illness, John Linsky, of 301 Dean St., Brooklyn, N. Y., after a long illness. Funeral on Sunday, April 24, at 2 p. m. Interment in family plot, Woodlawn Cemetery, Brooklyn.

LEACH—On Friday, April 22, at his late residence, 18 East 47th St., New York City, after a long illness. Funeral on Sunday, April 24, at 2 p. m. Interment in family plot, Woodlawn Cemetery, Brooklyn.

LUBIN—On April 22, 1921, after a long illness, John Lubin, of 301 Dean St., Brooklyn, N. Y., after a long illness. Funeral on Sunday, April 24, at 2 p. m. Interment in family plot, Woodlawn Cemetery, Brooklyn.

MAHER—On April 21, 1921, after a long illness, John Maher, of 301 Dean St., Brooklyn, N. Y., after a long illness. Funeral on Sunday, April 24, at 2 p. m. Interment in family plot, Woodlawn Cemetery, Brooklyn.

MELLENBY—On Thursday, April 21, 1921, after a long illness, John Mellenby, of 301 Dean St., Brooklyn, N. Y., after a long illness. Funeral on Sunday, April 24, at 2 p. m. Interment in family plot, Woodlawn Cemetery, Brooklyn.

MILLER—On Friday, April 22, 1921, after a long illness, John Miller, of 301 Dean St., Brooklyn, N. Y., after a long illness. Funeral on Sunday, April 24, at 2 p. m. Interment in family plot, Woodlawn Cemetery, Brooklyn.

PARKER—On Thursday, April 21, 1921, after a long illness, John Parker, of 301 Dean St., Brooklyn, N. Y., after a long illness. Funeral on Sunday, April 24, at 2 p. m. Interment in family plot, Woodlawn Cemetery, Brooklyn.

PARKER—On Thursday, April 21, 1921, after a long illness, John Parker, of 301 Dean St., Brooklyn, N. Y., after a long illness. Funeral on Sunday, April 24, at 2 p. m. Interment in family plot, Woodlawn Cemetery, Brooklyn.

PATTON—On Thursday, April 21, 1921, after a long illness, John Patton, of 301 Dean St., Brooklyn, N. Y., after a long illness. Funeral on Sunday, April 24, at 2 p. m. Interment in family plot, Woodlawn Cemetery, Brooklyn.

POWELL—Isabel C., widow of John B. Powell, suddenly at her residence, 100 W. 100 St., New York City, after a long illness. Funeral on Sunday